FLOUR WOULD NOT "DOUGH" AND THE FOOT EASE WOULD NOT "EASE"

By Fred S. Ferguson
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

With The American Army in Lorraine, April 4.—(By Mail.)—When flour won't "biscuit," won't "pie," won't "doughnut," won't even "dough" and above all, won't "spaghet" there must be something the matter with it.

And when you've ordered a ton of trench-foot powder, and it hasn't arrived; and more case of "trench feet" are coming in; and your superiors are raising the roof demanding the powder, and you can't get it—again there must be something the matter.

Two captains with these two lines of trouble in mind met recently. One was a captain in the quartermaster corps. The other was stationed at the front.

Captain X opened the conversation. He told of his trench-foot powder troubles. The particular powder he had ordered was the best thing for trench feet that had been found—but he couldn't get it for some mysterious reason.

Captain Y came back with his troubles. He had just gotten in a batch of flour and had been deluged with kicks from everybody from the Company cook, to the French civilians and the Salvation Army.

Now, everybody was trying mixing it with other flour to see if it would work, he said.

"The stuff simply won't do nothing that flour ought to do," was his final cry of anguish.

A light dawned in the eye of Captain X.

"What does this flour of yours look like?"

"Just flour."

"But are you sure it's flour?"

"There's no analyst with my outfit, but I take it as such."

Captain X was hot on the trail.

"You've got my trench-foot powder, I'll bet a horse," he shot at the Quartermaster. "How much have you sold? Who did you sell it to? How can you get it back, and get it back quick?"

There was a dash to the side of the remaining "flour".

Captain X nearly embraced it.

Just then a man from the Italian mission appeared. He explained that they had had visions of a real spaghetti dinner. But, he added in effect, that with all respect to the American's flour, it wouldn't "spaghet".

Then came a man from a mess nearby. In a few minutes there was a line, and everyone carrying a package of "flour" that wouldn't act as it should.

Knowing that the "flour" had been sold out in 5 pound lots to several times as many buyers, Captain X was fretting over how it was to be gotten back.

Captain Y looked at the line, and consoled:

"I don't think I'll be long getting all your damn foot powder back, and I won't have to go after it either."

VISITED CAMP LEE

August Plubell, of Frenchville, was in town Monday on his way home from Camp Lee, Va., whither he had gone to visit his son who was in training there. He was disappointed, however, as the son had left the evening before his father's arrival. Mr. Plubell made a trip about the camp and was greatly and most favorably impressed with what he saw there.

MY LETTER TO HIM

By Edna H. McCoy
Of The Vigilantes

Now this is the letter I write him,
While my heart is sick with dread:
"You are just where you should be,
my son,
Standing staunch, where your duty led.

"At home we are well and happy,
And cheerful, and proud of our boy,
In this war of the World—laddie—
A soldier son is a joy!

"Your father struts, just a little.
And 'sis' wears your pin all the while,
While I—well the star on your Service
Flag,
Brings to my lips a smile."

And I write the little nothings,
Of home, that are much, when away,
The funny things that have happened,
Throughout my homely day.

Then I go and sit by a window,
And look to the rising sun,
Where "over seas"—in the trenches—
He will fight till the victory's won!

Then—going back to my letter

TRENCH RAT TOO STRONG

Somewhere in France, May 22.—Jimmy, the ant eater, is a casualty! Jimmy is the mascot of the 44th Regiment, U. S. Marines, and he eats everything but ants.

Jimmy journeyed from Vera Cruz with the Marines and when he arrived in the front line trenches, Jimmy was happy—here was real action!

But the screeching shells and bursting bombs soon lost their terror for Jimmy and trench life was beginning to pall on him when the attack came.

A huge trench rat, resenting Jimmy's intrusion, charged. They locked in deadly combat. Seeing he was being worsted, the rat tail-signaled for reinforcements and the Rat Reserve came to the battle line in close formation for a massed attack.

Then the Marines stepped in and ended the battle. They found Jimmy had lost sundry pieces of hide and his sunny disposition.

He was given an immediate furlough and recommended for a wound stripe.

Put that want ad in the Progress and get results.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take a tablespoonful of salts if Back Hurts or bladder outcra

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, aching stomach or rheumatism in the back, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will be free. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to find and stimulate clogged kidneys.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

ALWAYS COOL AND POLITE

Not Even in Times of Extreme Danger Can Naval Men Forget Their Training in Deference.

"Submarines, please, sir!" So a correspondent reports, the very young midshipman on a big Atlantic liner, who had had a long training in politeness but a brief one in the perils of naval warfare, recently announced their danger to the passengers he was sent to warn. He was cool, if not less apologetic for giving trouble. The gentlemen he disturbed were not all of them either so calm or so courteous.

Even more painfully polite, a London journalist declares, was the retired sailor who was serving as messenger in one of the government offices in London at the time of a recent air raid. He knocked loudly on the door of the nearest office, walked in unhesitatingly when summoned to enter, and announced without haste and with punctilious deference to the official in charge:

"Mr. Jones, I have to ask you to be good enough to stand by, as we have had warnings of an air raid."

He added, bobbing a salutory salute in the direction of the stenographer, "And the same to you, miss."

Neither of these little incidents equals the historic instance of a British midshipman, sent to inform his captain that a small blaze on the vessel, supposed to have been entirely suppressed some time before, had broken out in a new place. On reaching the captain's cabin he found that officer engaged in earnest conference with the admiral of the fleet. The two officers did not observe the midshipman's entrance; he waited some moments, hoping for a pause, but in the end had to bring himself reluctantly to interrupt.

"Beg pardon, sir," he observed apologetically, "but really the fire is so near the powder magazine."

They abruptly ended the conference before he had ended his sentence.—Youth's Companion.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Every body uses this preparation now, because one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE MULES.

"It seems a pity," said the mule, and another mule, said at once, "What seems a pity?" Now these two mules were named Marsha Mule and Morum Mule. Marsha had spoken first.

"It seems a great pity," Marsha continued, "to be a sort of mongrel."

"What's a mongrel?" asked Morum. "A mongrel," said Marsha, "is a mixture of two animals, a mixed breed. There are many mongrel dogs I've heard."

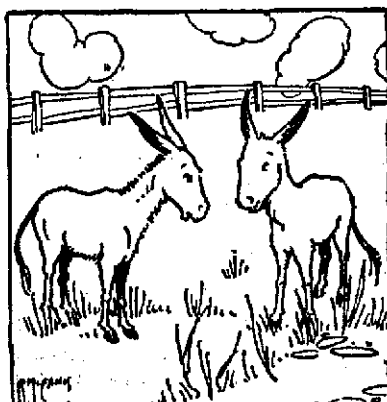

"Now that you speak of it," said Morum, "I've heard of mongrels, especially of mongrel dogs. And I've heard that usually they were far more clever than dogs highly bred and highly born."

"True," said Marsha. "That often is the case."

"Tell me," said Morum, "why we are mongrels?"

"Because we're something between an ass and a horse."

"But we mustn't feel unhappy because we are mongrels," said Morum.

"Why Do Folks Think We Are Queer Looking?"

"We must think of the smart mongrel dogs there are and we must remember too that we are smart."

"That's so," said Marsha. "But sometimes it discourages me and makes me feel sorry for myself."

"Dear me," said Morum, "that's too bad."

"And something else annoys me," said Marsha.

"Tell me what it is," asked Morum. "I would surely like to know and if I can comfort you any I would be glad to. At least let me try. Tell me what annoys you."

"Just because we're mules," said Marsha. "We aren't half appreciated. Folks make fun of us and often treat us very badly and that makes us very unhappy."

"We're just as intelligent as horses—almost always I consider we are as intelligent. And we're gentle, too. Very, very gentle. But just because we're mules they think they can impose on us, and it's not fair."

"Of course it's not," said Morum. "We've been very happy. Are some of our cousins imposed upon?"

"Many of them," said Marsha. "They treat our cousins badly, are often quite cruel, just because our cousins are very, very strong and can stand it. But that makes it worse, for it's taking such a mean advantage of our cousins."

"Just because they won't die they can be fed less than horses, and yet like to eat the same as horses. Folks only care, very often, that they have them to do their hard work, and they don't show they appreciate it by giving them goodies and by being kind to them."

"No, I've heard most shocking tales of the way our cousins have been treated. Cruel men and boys have said, 'Food costs a lot. They don't need so much. Nothing kills them.'"

"How disagreeable!" said Morum. "But our owner," said Marsha, "does all he can to tell his friends how well mules should be treated because we're so good, kind and intelligent. And because we will work so very hard."

"He does a lot of good that way. He always takes good care of us, too."

"Why do folks think we are queer looking?" asked Morum.

"Because we are in truth," said Marsha.

"What do you mean by saying 'in truth'?" asked Morum.

"I mean that it is so; we are queer looking. We have a large head, long ears, a thin tail and pointed hoofs. Our ears make us particularly queer looking."

"Dear me," said Morum, "it's too bad they don't decide that our ears are handsome."

"They can't decide that," said Marsha, "because they aren't."

"They might decide it just the same," said Morum.

"True, they might, but they won't. Don't let's worry over that, however. Let's just think how much we can do to help our cousins—by showing to everyone we meet that we're very, very nice."

"We won't become horrid even though people have done enough to us to make us horrid, but we'll show them that we have nice natures."

"And then our owner is doing all he can to help the cause of the mule, the long-lived, healthy, hard-working, patient mule," said Marsha in a loud, piercing voice.

SUMMER BLOUSE OF VOILE

Fine voile is the most durable of all the sheer fabrics that are used for making summer blouses and for this reason it deserves the fine needlework that is lavished on it. In the plain and elegant blouse shown here, rows of tucks and small pearl buttons are used for decoration. The faultless workmanship required to make groups of tucks centers attention on them and being accomplished they prove the best of all adornments for the tailored blouse.

Mrs. W. L. Hall, 107 Merrill street, says: "I suffered from severe backaches and headaches and spells of dizziness. I used Doan's Kidney pills as directed and they gave me splendid relief." (Statement given June 28, 1912.)

Lasting Benefit

On December 7, 1916 Mrs. Hall said: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney pills as highly as ever. They made a lasting cure in my case." Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney pills—the same that Mrs. Hall had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

The Pittsburgh Pirates' pitching staff was hard hit when Earl Hamilton left the team to join the navy. The former heaver of the Browns had just started a brilliant comeback with the Pirates, having defeated the Cardinals, the Cubs, the Reds and the Giants.

The Indian women of Bolivia are usually superior to their lords in both energy and intelligence.

Fielder Jones, manager of the St. Louis Browns, says his team is stronger than a year ago, notwithstanding the loss of several men who have gone into the service.

And perhaps the secret of the Cubs' present success lies in the fact that so many of their players formerly pastimed with other big league outfits.

The electric light company of Visalia, Cal., has employed women as meter readers.

The first normal school for women teachers was opened at Lexington, Mass., in 1839.

Pitcher "Bunny" Hearn begins to look like a find for the Braves. Once he catches the step, the former Toronto star should prove a winner for the Tribe.

Manager Wilbert Robinson of Brooklyn believes the Red Sox have the same chance to win the American league pennant as have the Robins of copping the National league flag.

WAR AND BOOZE

We all have been told we should eat less,

For days have been named to be wheatless, And some are announced to be meatless,

While coffee, and tea should be sweetless.

So many good homes have been heatless, And some beds have been well nigh sheetless.

While some wear their pants almost seatless, And stockings which are nearly footless,

Some folks cry because they are coalless, And others wear shoes that are soleless,

Whose children eat bread that is spreadless, While other folks are almost bedless.

Of course there are some who are doo-less, Whose children are left to go shoeless,

Especially homes that are wifeless, Whose children are left to go shoeless.

But think of the men who are homeless, And drink while their wives are defenseless,

Then vote to make our land drinkless, Then we'll breathe some air that's stinkless.

Strong drink has made pain almost ceaseless, And war makes the world almost peaceless;

So we think that the people will lose less, By the war, if our country is boozeless.

COMPLETE RETURNS TOMORROW

Harrisburg, May 22.—With Senator Wm. C. Sproul of Chester leading State Highway Commissioner J. Denny O'Neil for the Republican nomination for governor by 200,000 votes, state headquarters this afternoon declared that Senator Edward E. Beidleman had defeated J. R. K. Scott for Lieut. Governor by less than 20,000. Scott's vote in Philadelphia was lower than that expected by his backers, while Beidleman gained heavily in several organized counties. While Paul Houck, Secretary of Internal Affairs, is leading James F. Woodward of McKeesport for the Republican nomination of Secretary of Internal Affairs, returns are so insufficient as to forecast a result. Democratic state headquarters declare this afternoon that Joseph Guffey had won the nomination by not less than 5,000.

Yesterday's primary election resulted in about the lightest vote ever polled in a Pennsylvania gubernatorial elimination contest.

State Senator William C. Sproul, of Chester, swept the State and wins over State Highway Commissioner J. Denny O'Neil by a large margin. His running mate, Senator Edward E. Beidleman, of Harrisburg, won the Lieutenant Governor nomination over Congressman J. R. K. Scott, of Philadelphia.

In the Democratic ranks Acting State Chairman Joseph F. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, triumphed over Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, of Philadelphia. Sproul carried Clearfield county by about three hundred while Beidleman beat Scott almost one thousand votes.

Bonniwell made a close race in the county and will be less than two hundred behind Guffey.

For Congress William I. Swoope, of Clearfield, has more than one thousand majority over Evan J. Jones, of Bradford, and is also in the lead in Centre county. Jones will carry McKean county by about one thousand but will not be able to offset Swoope's lead in Clearfield and Centre and the Clearfield man is regarded as a sure winner of the nomination.

For the Democrats William E. Tobias, of DuBois, made a runaway race of it for the Congress nomination over Col. Hugh Taylor of Bellefonte.

The Assembly nominees on the Republican ticket will be Hon. Joseph E. Phillips, of Clearfield; Dr. Arthur Pidgeon, of Houtzdale, and D. D. Miller, of Grampian.

The Democratic nominees will be: Hon. Green W. Bell, of Bell's Landing; W. J. Hoover, of Lawrence, and John P. Rodgers, of DuBois.

For member of the State Committee, Charles B. Maxwell, Republican, of Morrisdale, won over William Menzies, of DuBois. The Democrats named Don Gingery, of Clearfield, over James F. Turner, of DuBois.

For Republican County Chairman it will take the official count to decide between H. H. Sweeney, of Houtzdale and G. Albert Stewart, of Clearfield. Walter Welch, of Clearfield, will head the Democratic organization, having won over John S. Chaplin, of Clearfield.

HOLLAND INVITES MORE DISCUSSION

Washington, May 22.—Answering America's reply to the Dutch shipping seizure, Holland has informed the State Department that she regards as unfortunate the stand taken by this government.

The inference is left that Holland invites further correspondence to clear up the misunderstanding between the two governments over the requisition of the Dutch ships. This government is insisting that Holland send some of her merchant shipping here to take away the wheat saved for her. On the other hand Holland takes the position that the wheat should be sent in the bottoms from here and that she should not be forced to send vessels over from Holland for whatever wheat cargoes goes forward.

MAY DARN NET IN COLORS

Numerous Articles, Both Dainty and Attractive, Are Made From This Variety of Needlework.

Can you appreciate the artistry that lies in colored darning on flannel mesh net? There are any number of lovely things which can be made from this variety of needlework.

For instance, wouldn't oatmeal taste better from a breakfast set showing oblong inserts of fine net darned in colors and showing a cheerful daisy design in yellow, brown and green?

Or what about a boudoir pillow with a cunning little brown basket of variegated flowers spilling over its edges, the handle tied with blue ribbon to a garland of the flowers.

Runners for the buffet or dressing table can be treated to end inserts or whole borders of the same darned net. It is such an easy thing to do, as it can follow any cross stitch or flannel pattern. It is best to use an embroidery hoop to hold the net in shape, as the work is done on the net before it is inserted into the material. Use a blunt needle with a long eye for the weaving. Loose ends of thread at the beginning and end of the needleful are hidden from sight by the weaving. In this, as in all fine needlework, knots are bad form.

When the weaving is finished the net is basted in place on the wrong side of the material, right side down. The material is then cut away to about an eighth or a quarter of an inch of the basting and turned underneath all around. The edge is then machine stitched very close and with fine stitches.

THE CASUALTY LIST

Washington, May 22.—Today's casualty list from General Pershing reports 48 Americans killed, wounded, missing or dead from wounds. The list includes Corp. Mark O'Neil, of Hallstead, Pa., killed in action; Albert Hode, Pittsburgh, wounded severely; Jos. Attura Renova, Pa., wounded severely; John E. Harris, Pittsburgh, wounded severely; and John Paraka, Ellsworth, Pa., wounded severely.

But never any poison
For the hungry Army crumb.

Oh, yes, dear friends, we've got them,
And we've got them mighty bad,
The pesky things keep biting,
Till they almost drive us mad;
They're after us continually,
Morning, noon and night,
And every time they grab a chunk,
We know old "Sherm" was right.
Corp. "Jerry" Jerome

Our idea of the outest out of luck is to take part in a trench raid, go through the Hun barrage unscathed, grab a couple of prisoners, come back through the Hun barrage unscathed and then stumble and break a wrist entering the home dugout.

Germany, the Kaiser still insists, will fight to the last man. Here's betting ten to one that it'll be the Crown Prince.

It might be called rubbing it in when a man who is buying two Liberty bonds, allotting ten bones a month to his wife, paying the limit premium on a War Risk insurance policy and squaring up with the government on a summary, gets two letters from his home town on pay day, one telling him that his bank account is ten cents overdrawn and the other asking him if he will please remit on his 1917 poll tax within two weeks and thereby avoid deputy sheriff's fees.

Nights in lagouts all round us
War can have its uses, too,
For we cannot leave behind us
Gadgets that are overdone.

SWEENEY FOURTEEN
AHEAD WITH SEVEN
PRECINCTS OUT

As returns started to come in last evening the greater part of the interest rested upon the contest for County Chairman in which Stewart of Clearfield was pitted against Sweeney of Houtzdale. There was not much going in the contest for State Committee. Maxwell of Morrisdale took the lead from the start and his majority grew as the returns came in.

The final result of the Chairmanship contest can well be said to be doubtful at three o'clock this afternoon when the result stood 1712 to 1698 in favor of Mr. Sweeney, although of the seven precincts out it was apparent that Stewart would carry at least five and probably six. No matter which way the count swings the winner will have no majority to crow about. Twenty-five votes will be about the margin.

SEE PAGE FIVE FOR REPUBLICAN VOTE

In line with our policy to give all the information that is procurable along any line we today present on page five the first published incomplete returns of Clearfield county on all offices except Congress at large. This has been quite some undertaking but we know that our readers will find it very interesting. Tomorrow the figures will be brought up to the minute in every precinct and in addition to the Republican ticket we will publish a like table on the Democratic results.

U. S. TO PURCHASE
LARGE SUPPLIES
FROM RUSSIA

By Carl D. Groat
Washington, May 22.—The State Department has under consideration a definite plan of aid for Russia. It became known today that this plan of financial assistance which will help Russia back to her place in the sun, would also foil German grasping machination. The Department's plan is to furnish vast sums of money in exchange for supplies, including cotton, oil, and other commodities much desired by Germany. Germany will seize them without pay if America does not step into the breach, according to officials.

STOCK DESTROYED ON TRACKS

More Than $200,000 Paid Out by Southern System for Animals Killed on Right of Way.

During the twelve months ending June 30, 1917, the Southern railway system alone paid out more than $200,000 in judgments to farmers for animals killed on the railroad's right of way, says Popular Science Monthly. President Harrison, of that system, points out that if the farmers would prevent their animals from straying over the tracks they would help solve the war problems. In the first place, the animals killed are a total loss as far as the food supply is concerned. Then, the sum paid by the railroad in recompense, even at the present prices of equipment, would buy more than one hundred standard boxcars capable of handling at a single load more than three thousand tons of freight, thus tending to relieve the freight congestion. Here, then, is a chance not only for the chuckling farmer but for the come artist and the jobster to relinquish a source of income for patriotism.

WILL USE KEROSENE AS FUEL

Peculiarly Constructed Locomotive for Work in Yards and Industrial Plants.

A peculiarly shaped locomotive that weighs only two tons and runs off kerosene for fuel is being employed on construction work in yards, industrial plants and contracting work. Its strange appearance is due to the fact that the boiler with the stack sits on the center of the truck while the water tank is in front. Under the boiler is a small unit engine that transmits the power to the solid car wheels. This type of locomotive is the largest size of which is 20 feet long and is operated by a single man. It is the only one of its kind in the world.

TODAY'S WAR DOPE

Allied troops continue to bite here and there into the enemy lines, dispatches from Field Marshal Haig today report. Successful raids were carried out on different portions of the western front by the British forces. German raids were carried out without success south of Albert and west of the section in Flanders. German gas batteries northeast of Bethune heavily bombarded the British. Prisoners taken by the British in most recent operations declare that the German troops and the people at home now look for nothing better than a draw in which Germany will get "good peace terms". The end of the war this year is looked for, the prisoners declare. The old rumor that Hindenburg is dead and that Mackensen is in command on the western front is regarded as mere propaganda—new dope concocted to lull the Allies and to slow up America's war preparations.

Washington, May 22.—Predicting that between four million and five million men will be under arms before July 1, 1919, Representative Charles Caldwell, New York, member of the military committee, today gave the House an official summary of America's fighting strength. Within one year after the first Americans left for France this nation will have one million men on the western front, Caldwell well who is close to the War Department, asserted. The Department during the first ten days in May directed the movement of 90,000 men. Caldwell quoted official figures showing that the army by June 1 would be 1,889,894 men and 148,388 officers in the service.

OPEN NECKS WILL REAPPEAR

Warmer Weather Certain to Bring More Comfortable Apparel Into Use, According to Writer.

Many of the eton street dresses are most attractive. They can be worn over blouses or over sleeveless gowns or with the skeleton waistcoats referred to above. These waistcoats are being made of satin and figured silks and of rich and beautiful materials to give a touch of color to the favorite dark blue costumes. For everyday use, however, the simple white blouse of washable satin or of organdy or of handkerchief lawn is well liked, and a great many of these blouses are made with the round collar that once we knew as Peter Pan, although there is something of a tendency toward the revival of the high stock, and with the coming of the warmer weather we shall see open necks in generous numbers.

We will do a great deal for fashion and we will do still more for the needs of the country, observes a fashion writer, but it is a proven fact that women who have grown accustomed to the comfort of the rolling collars are exceedingly slow to accept to any great extent a fashion which calls for swathed throats, for open necks have conserved health as well as comfort, and that fact must be taken into consideration. Undoubtedly, stocks with jabots will be worn to a great extent upon the street during the early season and there will be a good many of the high neck blouses worn under the eton coats, but just as soon as the temperature rises to any considerable extent, the open necks will reappear.

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN DEAD

S. M. Bailey died at the home of his daughter Mrs. Whitmarsh on Fourth street yesterday morning at one o'clock. His death was due to infirmities of age being 80 years, 2 months and 3 days old. His wife who was Jane Hoel preceded him to the grave 11 years ago. He is survived by four children: J. Woodward, DuBois; Romaine, living on old home place near Rockton; Mrs. John Kenard; Rev. Hartman will hold short services at the home of Mrs. Whitmarsh Thursday at 1 p.m. Services will be concluded at the Methodist church at Rockton. Interment in the family plot at Lutheranburg.

FORD AND BIKE COLLIDE

A near-serious accident occurred at the corner of the alley leading from the rear of The Dumlindig this noon when Wm. Parton was struck and knocked down by a Ford driven by Carl Moron. Parton was riding a bicycle west on Market street and when on front of Spack's Paper store Moron drove out of the alley and made a hard turn to the left, striking Parton head-on. Parton was knocked down and the wheel demolished. Fortunately beyond some very painful bruises Parton was not seriously injured.

MUST PUT VIM AND SNAP INTO
RED CROSS CAMPAIGN AT ONCE

The Red Cross drive is going along but not with the vim and snap that the managers were hoping for.

On account of the inclement weather of Monday things did not get going rightly and the outlying districts were not quite up to par. Yesterday's returns were very light and it is supposed that the bad weather hindered the various teams in their soliciting.

This city does not seem to be awake to the fact that there is a drive on and the giving is not what it should be. The solicitors report that the number of subscriptions are large enough but the amounts are not what they might be.

Among the business places thus far solicited Leitzinger Bros. show a nice contribution. With what the firm donated and the employees the total for the store amounts to $600.

There was a noon meeting at the Moshannon Colliery at O'Shanter. Speakers were present from Clearfield and the day's wage proposition got across nicely. Supt. Gensler hopes to make the mine a hundred per cent. mine and the indications are that he will accomplish his aim.

The work of the teams at Utahville under J. C. Hegarty is beginning to show up nicely and the district will pull out with its quota without any doubt. Here the day's wage plan is being worked and with a great measure of success.

Frenchville, LeContes Mills and Coudley are being taken care of by local people and the work of the team is fine. They are working hard and they should be in the running when the amounts are turned in.

There will be meetings tonight at the following places and the speakers are from here:

Olanta, J. Fred Weaver and John Bain.
Carnwath, A. H. Woodward and A. Roy Chase.

Coalport, E. V. Brown and Geo. E. Zerfoss.

Glen Hope, Alex Patterson.

East Ridge, A. T. Kearney.

Westover, W. A. Hegarty and John C. Arnold.

Campaign Manager Usher told the Progress man this morning that he was very much disappointed at the way the Clearfield cards were being turned in with the small amounts and stated that unless the local teams got down to brass tacks and avoided the small amounts that we would fall down in the drive.

The woman solicitors for the Second Red Cross War Fund began their labors in town today and report very good success for their forenoon's work.

The ladies are working hard and deserve the hearty cooperation of our people. Nobody should fail to contribute.

Here is a sample of what the Red Cross is doing and will do, possibly for your boy:—

There was a real enthusiastic open air meeting at Maple Run yesterday afternoon. Hon. Jos. E. Phillips and Prof. Jno. Taylor addressed a crowd of about 40. As a result of their talks this small crowd subscribed $400.

THE STOCK MARKET

New York, May 22.—The stock market opened irregular today. United States steel was up 1-2 at 109 1-8. Marines, preferred, off 1-2 at 102 1-2. Anaconda opened at 68 18 up 3-8. Steel showed a gain, leading all industrials, while Reading leading the rails showed a gain of 2 points. Under the leadership of steel commons, the steel market gained shortly after noon.

10,000 LESS CARS ARE IDLE

Locomotives and Cars Now in Service Only Slightly in Excess of Number Last Year.

Railroads report that on October 1 the excess of unfilled orders from shippers for freight cars over and above the idle cars at different points numbered 70,389. Compared with last year this is a slight increase. This is the figure commonly but inaccurately put forward as "car shortage." It compares with 77,624 on July 1, 1917 on

THE RED CROSS CARES FOR MADERA PRISONER

Senator S. J. Miller, of Madera, received from the War Department an inmate confirmation that his son, Lieutenant Frank K. Miller, an army physician and surgeon, was a prisoner of the Germans. He is in the camp at Langensalz, Germany.

In addition to the brief report from the War Department, Senator Miller, who is a practicing physician and Madera, also received the following letter from the Red Cross which was published from the Madera Herald, because it is of interest to all who have relatives in service:

American Red Cross
Washington, D. C.
May 14, 1918

Dear Dr. Miller:—

A note from the State Department this morning reports your son, Frank K. Miller, as definitely a prisoner at Langensalz. This information we have already received I have no doubt and for that reason I have not graphed you. This is simply to tell you that when a man is actually reported a prisoner in a definite German camp his troubles are over. We then send our regular food parcels to him and these give him all that he needs to eat without reference to the poor German food. We also send him a full outfit of clothing and tobacco and comforts of various kinds. I enclose a slip which tells about how to send mail. If you want to send him money you can do it through the Bureau of Prisoners Relief of the American Red Cross which from now on takes charge of Lieut. Miller. It is certainly a relief to know that he is all right.

Sincerely yours,
W. N. CASTLE, JR.

HARBISON-WALKER PLANTS
HAVE THREE BIG RED CROSS
MEETINGS

Rev. W. W. Hartman and S. T. McClure addressed these big meetings yesterday in the interest of the Red Cross War Fund. Miss Zoe Fink and Miss Margaret Iames in Red Cross costume gave a picturesque touch to the meetings and assisted in securing pledges. Each of the three groups of workmen, namely the mines at Stronach, upper Woodland works, and lower Woodland works, gave a unanimous verdict that the wages of today, May 22, should be given to the Red Cross and authorized the company to deduct the amount from their pay envelope on the next pay day. They were most enthusiastic meetings, and every man present received a window card stating that one day's wages had been given to the worthy cause, and a list of all contributors will be posted at each works.

FEDERAL TAX BILL APPROVED BY THE PRESIDENT

Washington, May 22.—President Wilson regards a tax bill necessary this session of Congress. Officials learned today that Secretary McAdoo at a conference with the President yesterday won the executive's approval of the proposed new revenue measure. Decision of the President to support McAdoo's contention was probably result in early opening of the work on the measure by the House and Senate committees. There is a distinct difference of opinion in President Wilson's cabinet regarding the need for a tax bill this session. Postmaster Burleson is opposed to the proposed action.

ANOTHER WAR BABY

Another recruit for Pershing's army arrived at the Clearfield hospital about 5:30 Tuesday morning. He is a lusty-lunged 12 lb. boy and was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leo F. Stronach. His dad is with the American Expeditionary Forces somewhere in France and news of the new arrival has already been sent him.

CAN IT BE TRUE?

London, May 22.—German naval authorities are preparing to abandon Zeebrugge and Ostend as U-boat bases because of the recent blockade by the British naval forces and the continual harassment of the British bombing planes, according to information received from Berlin.

SOME EXTRACTS DIRECT FROM THE TRENCHES VIA "THE STARS AND STRIPES"

The following "dope" was taken from "the Sammys" official newspaper which is published in France. It appeared in the issue of April 26th last:

COURAGE

With the battle lines stretching for hundreds of miles, with men massed by millions, with soldiers toiling over cannon that, week in and week out, dealt death to an enemy that could not see and had never seen, it seemed to those who watched it from afar, that war in this age of science and machinery had become an impersonal thing, and that except for the combat aviators darting across the lonely skies, the individual had passed from the scene.

Yet in such fighting as now shakes the world, here and there amid the smoke and roar of battle, holding out as though the fate of all mankind depended upon him alone, the individual emerges. He counts. He has counted in the battle of 1918 as surely as he counted at Gettysburg and at Thermopylae.

The hero in this war, as in all wars, as in life itself, is the man to whom nothing is impossible, the man who does not know what it means to yield. Whether at the turn in some communicating trench he faces, alone and dauntless, an oncoming file of Germans, or whether at his desk in some far distant base he faces a crushing task of administration, he does not yield. And this war will be won by the side which, on high and in the ranks, back home and in the field, can show in greatest numbers, the men who never yield. For in war, from the dawn of history to the spring of 1918, only one thing has ever counted. It still counts above all else. And the name of that thing is courage.

THE SOLDIER'S DREAM

The dream that the soldier dreams

and dreams
Is never a dream of war and hate,
But of homeland fields where the sunshine gleams
And of vesper bells when the hour is late.

He dreams of an hour and a day and a night
When his land was free from the strain and stress

Of war, with its bitterness and blight;
He dreams of a little checkered dress.

He dreams of home and the firelight
there;

Of a lonely woman kneeling low
Beside a bed at her evening prayer;
In his dreams to her side would he yearning go.

He dreams of another summer day
When the birds sang sweet, as he tilled the soil.

He dreams of a little child at play;
And he prays for the peace of a kindly toil.

Yes, the soldier dreams of a thousand things

But the last of the mall is of war and hate;

He dreams of his home when the vesper rings
And his child a-swing on the gate.

WHAT THEY MISS

They send us pocket Bibles.
To make us lads behave,
They send us bright trench mirrors.
To help us when we shave;
Powders for our face and feet.

Cod creams and camphor ice,
But never any poison
For the hungry Army lee.

They send us Wingle's Doublemint.
It's really very nice
They send us little sewing kits,
With which we sew and splice;
Wrist watches and bright wristlets,
And uses on which to strum.

KING OF BURGLARS TO FACE A RIFLE

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 22.—Unless a stay of execution is granted at the eleventh hour, Howard de Weese, self-styled king of burglars, will face a firing squad at the Utah State Prison on Friday morning, to pay the death penalty for the murder of his wife. So far de Weese has appeared indifferent to his fate and has taken no steps to secure a reprieve. The Utah law gives a convicted murderer the choice of death by hanging or shooting. De Weese has chosen to face a firing squad.

The murder of Mrs. De Weese occurred in a rooming-house in this city on the night of Sept. 21 last. The husband left the house early the following morning, but the crime was not discovered until two days later when the landlady, becoming suspicious at the non-appearance of her tenants, had the room forcibly opened. The body of the slain woman was found half-dressed lying across the bed. She had been strangled to death and the body mutilated almost beyond the possibility of recognition.

De Weese had a two days' start on the officers and every effort to locate him proved futile. Nothing was known as to his whereabouts until Dec. 22 when the hunted man walked into a police station in Chicago and voluntarily surrendered himself. He was returned to this city, where he was tried, convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to death. He has steadfastly maintained his innocence of the murder, declaring that on the fatal night he was engaged in burglarizing a house in Salt Lake and discovered the murder of his wife only when he returned to their room early on the following morning. He declared that the woman must have been slain by burglars who were seeking a large amount of jewelry which he said his wife possessed. Fearing that he would be charged with the crime, he said, he immediately fled from the city.

RESPECTED COOPER TOWNSHIP CITIZEN DIES

Gilbert Hoover, a lifelong and respected farmer of Cooper Township, died yesterday at his home a few miles from Kyertown aged 75. The cause of death was heart trouble from which he had been a sufferer for a short time.

He is survived by six children, Mrs. Guy Johnson, of Grass Lake, Mrs. Elmer Merritt, of Washington, Miss Alta at home; Ira, of Sylvan Grove, Doyd, of DuBois and S. R. Hoover of the state of Washington. Mrs. Hoover having preceded him to the great beyond several years ago.

The funeral will be held from his late residence at Sylvan Grove on Friday afternoon and interment will be made at the Sylvan Grove cemetery.

The first normal school for women teachers was opened at Lexington, Mass., in 1839.

Chaps, more instruments, more bandages, more dressings—more everything. The Red Cross has got all agency worked up to its highest point. It is doing its best—it can do no more.

But you can do more. All you've got to do is to multiply this efficiency and keep on multiplying it. And dollars will do that—nothing but dollars. If your dollars can get a wounded man attention twenty minutes earlier than he otherwise would get it, you give him a hundred chances where he has but one—you are like to save his life. You've subscribed to the Red Cross before—we all understand that. We all did that too. But our friend over there in the trenches is likely to get wounded half a dozen times. He's asking in his desperation, for your help, your money. He needs it badly now. Every dollar that you put in may heal one wound. Every fifty dollars that you put in may save one life—or more.

Miller's Antiseptic Oil, Known as

Snake Oil

Accomplishing most wonderful results. I want to thank you for your wonderful oil, states Mr. J. C. Gibson, of Jonesboro, Ark. My little girl was very low with diphtheria; I had given her two doses of medicine which cost me $20 with no results. I bought a 25c bottle of your oil and one application relieved her. Now she is well. It is the greatest remedy I ever saw. Mr. Gibson made this statement before hundreds of people. Mrs. Florence Meager, 231 Whitney St., Hartford, Conn., writes: "I have used your Antiseptic Oil for neuralgia with good effects. Only three I have ever tried that closed the pain immediately." Mr. Williams, Gadsden, Ala., writes: "I have used your great pain oil for rheumatism, stiff joints, also for sore throat, and I want to say that it is the greatest remedy I ever tried. I recommend it to all sufferers. Many cures reported daily from this oil. It is a wonderful oil. Guaranteed 25c. Get it at $1.00 or money refunded. At Deole's Drug store."

DAIRY THE DAIRY

SKIMMED MILK FOR CALVES

Since Most of Fat Has Been Removed in Cream Carbohydrates Needed to Make It Balanced.

Skimmed milk is a little richer in protein than whole milk, but lower in carbohydrates. Since most of the fat has been removed in the cream the skimmed milk will need carbohydrates to make it a balanced ration for calves. A good plan is to replace a portion of the whole milk with skimmed milk, gradually increase the skimmed milk with some form of carbohydrates till all of the whole milk is replaced by skimmed milk. Fine ground meal is one of the best carbohydrate supplements to be fed with skimmed milk. Some feeders cook the meal and stir it in the skimmed milk and feed it to the calf. After the calf is two weeks old it will eat fine ground meal and if fed small quantities will assimilate it. Linseed meal is also used.

Care should be taken in feeding calves. They should be taught to drink from the pail as soon as possible. Nothing but clean vessels should be used and the milk should be clean and warm.

CLEAN UTENSILS ARE URGED

High Grade of Milk Cannot Be Obtained if Pails and Cans Are Not Thoroughly Washed.

(By E. H. FARRINGTON, Wisconsin Agricultural College.)

All efforts to supply the consumers with sweet, clean milk are useless if the milk pails, the cans, and other utensils are not thoroughly washed and scalded before milk is poured into them. Milk sours so quickly and it is so difficult to remove the sour odor from the utensils that these should be washed immediately after they are used.

(1) Milk pails and cans should be smooth, with all cracks and seams flushed with sander. Seamless pails and cans have been placed on the market.

(2) When washing tinware, first rinse off the film of milk on the surface with cold water, then wash thoroughly with warm water and cleaning soda, using a brush, and finally rinse with scalding hot water and place in the sun or some place free from dust to dry.

(3) After scalding, do not wipe milk tinware with a cloth, but let the rinsing water be so hot that there is no further need of drying.

CHAPPED TEATS ARE VEXING

Where Cows Wade Around in Muddy Yards and Pastures, Teats Often Get Wet and Cold.

Sore teats of any kind are very unpleasant, both to the cow and the milker. A cow having sore teats of any kind does not stand still during milking. She keeps moving about and even kicking.

During spring chapped teats are common. The cows wade around in muddy yards and even in ponds in the pasture, the teats get wet and cold, and if no special attention is given to the cows, the teats frequently become very sore.

HIGH-PRICED FEED ANNOYING

Dairyman Depending on Profit From Cows for Living Must Know Just What He Is Doing.

Now that the cost of cow feed is soaring skyhigh and the dairyman is depending on the profit from his cows for his living it is a self-evident fact that he must know what he is thinking about. One thing is certain, the poor feeder to the poor cow is not in the race and the sooner he gets out the better, even if he must hire out to work for the man who knows how to do his own thinking.

RETAIN BULL UNTIL TESTED

Not Good Policy to Sell to Butcher After Two Years' Service—May Prove to Be Valuable.

After a young or untried bull has been used two years he should not be sold to the butcher, because he may prove to be a bull of exceptional worth when his daughters are fresh. Such a bull often can be lost or loaned to a man with a good head for a couple of years and sold for a good price. In this way the dairyman is subject to loss in case he proves especially valuable.

The excellent work of Percy Talbot of Yale will doubtless win for him a niche in Old Time Hall of Fame.

The Greatest Mother in the World

STRETCHING forth her hands to all in need; to Jew or Gentile, black or white; knowing no favorite, yet favoring all.

Ready and eager to comfort at a time when comfort is most needed. Helping the little home that's crushed beneath an iron hand, by showing mercy in a healthy, human way; re-building it, in fact, with stone on stone; replenishing empty bins and empty cupboards; bringing warmth to hearts and hearths too long neglected.

Seeing all things with a mother's seventh sense that's blind to jealousy and meanness; seeing men in their true light as naughty children—snatching, biting, bitter—but with a hidden side that's quickest touched by mercy.

Reaching out her hands across the sea to No Man's Land to cheer with warmer comforts thousands who must stand and wait in stench and crawling holes and watersoaked entrenchments where cold and wet bite deeper, so they write, than Boche steel or lead.

She's warming thousands, feeding thousands, healing thousands from her store; the Greatest Mother in the World—the Red Cross.

Your help is needed—give till the heart says stop.

Every cent of every dollar received for the Red Cross War Fund goes for War Relief.

The American Red Cross is the largest and most efficient organization for the relief of suffering that the World has ever seen.

It is made up almost entirely of volunteer workers, the higher executives being without exception men accustomed to large affairs, who are in almost all cases giving their services without pay.

It is supported entirely by its membership fees and by voluntary contributions.

It is today bringing relief to suffering humanity, both military and civil, in every War torn allied country.

It plans tomorrow to help in the work of restoration throughout the world.

It feeds and clothes entire populations in times of great calamity.

It is there to help your soldier boy in his time of need.

With its thousands of workers, its tremendous stores and smooth running transportation facilities it is serving as America's advance guard—and thus helping to win the war.

Congress authorizes it.

President Wilson leads it.

The War Department audits its accounts.

Your Army, your Navy and your Allies enthusiastically endorse it.

Twenty-two million Americans have joined it.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

THIS WAR IS GETTING WORSE
(By United Press)
Philadelphia, May 21.—Women who

to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in hot weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will be fine. This famous salt is made from the acid uric and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clear and active.

Two Fresh Arrivals of Note

Hardly a day passes but there is something new finds its way into the store and of course these items are interesting news to the women who are keeping the trend of fashions in mind.

DRESS SKIRTS

White gaberdine in a pretty stripe pattern. Have the neat side pocket effect and are trimmed with pearl buttons. $1.75.

Plain white gaberdine with a pearl button trimming but a little heavier and better materials. $2.00.

Natty pique sports skirts that will stand the tub. Big pockets and belt $2.50.

PRETTY VOILE WAISTS

Any woman would be glad to own one of these but when you see what a dainty bit of designing each one is you will have to keep a tight grip on yourself to refrain from buying two or three.

And there's so many patterns, too. From the severe little tailored waist to the frilliest of frills and moderately priced at $2.00.

Tub Silk Waists. As the name implies they will stand the tub without marring their color effects. These are of the tailored sort at $3.00.

Beautiful crepe de chine waists in black and white. This is without doubt one of the best waists you can get anywhere for a corresponding amount of money. $3.50.

ALWAYS COOL AND POLITE

Not Even in Times of Extreme Danger Can Naval Men Forget Their Training in Deference.

"Submarines, please, sir!" So a correspondent reports, the very young midshipman on a big Atlantic liner, who had had a long training in politeness but a brief one in the perils of naval warfare, recently announced their danger to the passengers he was sent to warn. He was cool, if not less apologetic for giving trouble. The gentlemen he disturbed were not all of them either so calm or so courteous.

Even more painfully polite, a London journalist declares, was the retired sailor who was serving as messenger in one of the government offices in London at the time of a recent air raid. He knocked loudly on the door of the nearest office, walked in unhesitatingly when summoned to enter, and announced without haste and with punctilious deference to the official in charge:

"Mr. Jones, I have to ask you to be good enough to stand by, as we have had warnings of an air raid."

He added, bobbing a salutory salute in the direction of the stenographer, "And the same to you, miss."

Neither of these little incidents equals the historic instance of a British midshipman, sent to inform his captain that a small blaze on the vessel, supposed to have been entirely suppressed some time before, had broken out in a new place. On reaching the captain's cabin he found that officer engaged in earnest conference with the admiral of the fleet. The two officers did not observe the midshipman's entrance; he waited some moments, hoping for a pause, but in the end had to bring himself reluctantly to interrupt.

"Beg pardon, sir," he observed apologetically, "but really the fire is so near the powder magazine."

They abruptly ended the conference before he had ended his sentence.—Youth's Companion.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Every body uses this preparation now, because one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE MULES.

"It seems a pity," said the mule, and another mule, said at once, "What seems a pity?" Now these two mules were named Marsha Mule and Morum Mule. Marsha had spoken first.

"It seems a great pity," Marsha continued, "to be a sort of mongrel."

"What's a mongrel?" asked Morum. "A mongrel," said Marsha, "is a mixture of two animals, a mixed breed. There are many mongrel dogs I've heard."

"Now that you speak of it," said Morum, "I've heard of mongrels, especially of mongrel dogs. And I've heard that usually they were far more clever than dogs highly bred and highly born."

"True," said Marsha. "That often is the case."

"Tell me," said Morum, "why we are mongrels?"

"Because we're something between an ass and a horse."

"But we mustn't feel unhappy because we are mongrels," said Morum.

"Why Do Folks Think We Are Queer Looking?"

"We must think of the smart mongrel dogs there are and we must remember too that we are smart."

"That's so," said Marsha. "But sometimes it discourages me and makes me feel sorry for myself."

"Dear me," said Morum, "that's too bad."

"And something else annoys me," said Marsha.

"Tell me what it is," asked Morum. "I would surely like to know and if I can comfort you any I would be glad to. At least let me try. Tell me what annoys you."

"Just because we're mules," said Marsha. "We aren't half appreciated. Folks make fun of us and often treat us very badly and that makes us very unhappy."

"We're just as intelligent as horses—almost always I consider we are as intelligent. And we're gentle, too. Very, very gentle. But just because we're mules they think they can impose on us, and it's not fair."

"Of course it's not," said Morum. "We've been very happy. Are some of our cousins imposed upon?"

"Many of them," said Marsha. "They treat our cousins badly, are often quite cruel, just because our cousins are very, very strong and can stand it. But that makes it worse, for it's taking such a mean advantage of our cousins."

"Just because they won't die they can be fed less than horses, and yet like to eat the same as horses. Folks only care, very often, that they have them to do their hard work, and they don't show they appreciate it by giving them goodies and by being kind to them."

"No, I've heard most shocking tales of the way our cousins have been treated. Cruel men and boys have said, 'Food costs a lot. They don't need so much. Nothing kills them.'"

"How disagreeable!" said Morum.

"But our owner," said Marsha, "does all he can to tell his friends how well mules should be treated because we're so good, kind and intelligent. And because we will work so very hard."

"He does a lot of good that way. He always takes good care of us, too."

"Why do folks think we are queer looking?" asked Morum.

"Because we are in truth," said Marsha.

"What do you mean by saying 'in truth'?" asked Morum.

"I mean that it is so; we are queer looking. We have a large head, long ears, a thin tail and pointed hoofs. Our ears make us particularly queer looking."

"Dear me," said Morum, "it's too bad they don't decide that our ears are handsome."

"They can't decide that," said Marsha, "because they aren't."

"They might decide it just the same," said Morum.

"True, they might, but they won't. Don't let's worry over that, however. Let's just think how much we can do to help our cousins—by showing to everyone we meet that we're very, very nice."

"We won't become horrid even though people have done enough to us to make us horrid, but we'll show them that we have nice natures."

"And then our owner is doing all he can to help the cause of the mule, the long-lived, healthy, hard-working, patient mule," said Marsha in a loud, piercing voice.

One Who Shows no Favor

A merciless judge is Father Time. Before him the weak and the wanting go to the wall. Only the truth can stand. For years the following statement from a Clearfield resident has withstood this sternest of tests.

Mrs. W. L. Hall, 107 Merrill street, says: "I suffered from severe backaches and headaches and spells of dizziness. I used Doan's Kidney pills as directed and they gave me splendid relief." (Statement given June 28, 1912.)

Lasting Benefit

On December 7, 1916 Mrs. Hall said: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney pills as highly as ever. They made a lasting cure in my case." Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney pills—the same that Mrs. Hall had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WAR AND BOOZE

We all have been told we should eat less,

For days have been named to be wheatless,

And some are announced to be meatless,

While coffee, and tea should be sweetless.

So many good homes have been heatless,

And some beds have been well nigh sheetless.

While some wear their pants almost seatless,

And stockings which are nearly footless,

Some folks cry because they are coalless,

And others wear shoes that are soleless,

Whose children eat bread that is spreadless,

While other folks are almost bedless.

Of course there are some who are doo-less,

Whose children are left to go shoeless,

Especially homes that are wifeless,

Whose children are left to go shoeless.

But think of the men who are homeless,

And drink while their wives are defenseless.

Then vote to make our land drinkless,

Then we'll breathe some air that's stinkless.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infect the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomain-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast, each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, four breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. (This will cost very little but it is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast in the subject.)

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Pitcher "Bunny" Hearn begins to look like a find for the Braves. Once he catches the step, the former Toronto star should prove a winner for the Tribe.

Manager Wilbert Robinson of Brooklyn believes the Red Sox have the same chance to win the American league pennant as have the Robins of copping the National league flag.
